Saving Fish From Drowning was not a novel, but an endurance test. If I didn't have to facilitate a book group about this novel, I would not have read past the first 50 pages. I've heard great things about Amy Tan, and haven't read her other stuff -- and won't discount it based on this -- but lordy, I have no incentive to read her work now.

The TAST device is deployed at high tide, and emits sound at irregular intervals to keep pinnipeds guessing. Developed at the University of St. Andrews in Scotland, the device is designed to deter seals by harmlessly inducing a flight response, at a volume and signal frequency that doesn't also scare away the salmon trying to make their way upstream.

One freshwater store always lets be bring back fish, and they give me full store credit. There is another little store that almost functions as a permanent swap meet. The reef store does not take back anything, no matter what. They do issue refunds if an organism dies, pending water tests, but they will not take back fish or coral.
